Whole School Leave of Absence Policy

Introduction

These guidelines were originally developed by the Local Authority in consultation with recognised Trade Unions. This policy has been developed to promote a clear and consistent approach within the Academy for the management of requests from staff for leave of absence.

It is the Governing Body's responsibility to manage their staff. The Headteacher will assist the Governors in the discharge of this responsibility and may act in certain circumstances in the absence of the Governors.

1 Purpose of this Policy

- to comply with statutory entitlements to leave of absence;
- to clarify the conditions under which other leave of absence may be taken;
- to enable a consistent and transparent approach to requests for leave of absence;
- to establish a system which is fair to all employees.

2 General Points for Consideration

Any leave of absence taken by school employees may cause disruption to pupils' learning; involves the school in additional organisation and may incur costs for the school's budget. Employees will be mindful of these considerations and, as far as is reasonably practicable should make arrangements to minimise the necessity to ask for leave of absence, for example by making medical appointments outside of school hours, if able to do so. However, the Governors recognise that situations will arise from time to time, outside of any statutory entitlement, where the school will need to grant employees leave of absence.

It is at the Headteacher's/Governing Body's discretion, in line with the model policy, whether leave of absence is paid or unpaid unless there is a statutory entitlement to pay.

The information given below does not supersede the National Agreement on Pay and Conditions of Service (National Joint Council for Local Government Services) or the Conditions of Service for Teachers (The Burgundy Book).

3 The Legal Position

Those employees who have a contractual obligation to work during school term periods should avoid applications for leave of absence, for example, to enable staff to accompany members of their family or partners on holidays etc. These will not be granted by the Governors unless there are very exceptional circumstances and acceptable cover arrangements can be arranged by the school.

4 Considerations in Granting Leave

The most common requests for leave are home emergencies, serious illness/death of a partner/near relative and funerals. Each situation may be different and it is essential not to make assumptions about the surrounding circumstances or nature/status of the relationship of an individual to the employee.

Governors should take account of the following:

- their duty of care to their staff;
- the stated reason/purpose for the leave and the impact upon the person concerned;
- any anticipated effect upon the welfare of the school if leave is granted;
- any benefit (for example educational or personal development) to the employee making the application

Employees should endeavour to give the Headteacher/Governors as much notice as possible as longer notice will give the school a greater opportunity to make alternative arrangements.

In instances where frequent requests for leave of absence are made, the Headteacher should discuss the requests with the employee and consider whether the school can assist with any underlying difficulties either on a temporary or permanent basis.

5 Emergency Leave

Where the absence of the employee is unavoidable, for example due to the illness of a dependant relative, and after due consideration by the Headteacher, or nominated representative, the employee would normally be granted immediate paid leave of absence to put in place emergency arrangements. The Headteacher should then consult the Chair of Governors at the earliest opportunity and agree how much leave is reasonable in the circumstances. In such instances, the employee should be asked to contact the school, the next day at the latest, to inform the Headteacher of the current position and to establish the duration of leave granted and whether or not it is paid.

Under the Academy's Family Friendly Policy, employees are allowed up to one paid week of leave in a rolling year to assist them in managing the illness/support of dependents and relatives.

6 Applications for Other Non Urgent Leave

For applications for leave of absence for any other reasons, other than Emergency Leave detailed above, or for leave of absence for a period longer than 2 weeks, a written application should be sent to the Headteacher. The employee should give at least 15 school days of notice before the absence is to be taken. Such requests should be considered by the Personnel Committee.

Employees should note that the 15 school days of notice is a minimum period, and staff should provide as much notice as possible.

However, as previously stated, other than in exceptional circumstances no leave will be granted by the Governors during term time.

7 Extended Leave of Absence (for example of at least half a term in duration)

Requests for an extended period of leave, including leave for sabbaticals, exchanges and voluntary work, should be by written application to the Headteacher giving at least a full term's notice. The Personnel Committee should consider the request and may refer the request to the full Governing Body. Such periods of absence may affect the leave entitlement of relevant employees.

8 Pay Considerations

Where leave of absence has been granted without pay, salary will be deducted based upon 1/365 of appropriate salary for each day of absence.

9 Statutory Entitlements and Requests for Absence

Statutory entitlements are given below, followed by a list of the most common requests for leave of absence. A suggested appropriate amount of leave is given and whether it should be paid or unpaid. Governors may increase this, but should be careful to treat all employees equally under the policy. Where paid leave of absence has been granted, further unpaid leave may also be granted at the Personnel Committee's discretion.

Statutory Entitlements

A Maternity Leave

The Employment Act 2002 gives all employees an entitlement to 26 weeks' paid ordinary maternity leave, and subject to qualification, a further 26 weeks' unpaid additional maternity leave. Different maternity provisions apply to teaching and non teaching staff. For more information see 'Maternity Provisions for Non Teaching Staff', or the provisions set out in the Burgundy Book for Teachers, or contact Academy HR.

B Paternity Leave

The Employment Act 2002 gives a qualifying employee an entitlement of up to 2 weeks' paid paternity leave (at Statutory Paternity Pay) for the purpose of caring for a newborn (or newly adopted) child and supporting the mother (or adopter). Different criteria apply depending on whether the leave is connected with a birth or an adoption. For more information see Paternity Leave \(Newborn Child\), UK Adoptions and Overseas Adoptions or contact the Academy's HR department.

Employees are entitled to take time off during working hours to accompany a pregnant woman to up to two appointments to receive antenatal care, lasting no more than 6 and a half hours each, provided they meet the relevant criteria.

C Adoption Leave

The Employment Act 2002 gives a qualifying employee an entitlement of 26 weeks paid ordinary adoption leave (at Statutory Adoption Pay) and 26 weeks' unpaid additional adoption leave. Different criteria apply depending on whether the adoption is from within the UK or from overseas. Please see information bulletins Adoption Leave UK Adoptions and Overseas Adoptions. Teachers should also refer to the Burgundy Book clause 12.1 or contact Academy HR.

D Parental Leave

The Parental Leave Regulations 1999 give a qualifying employee an entitlement to 13 weeks' unpaid parental leave for the purpose of caring for a child born or adopted on or after 15 December 1999. This entitlement lasts until a child's 5th birthday, or a disabled child's 18th birthday, and for 5 years following adoption or until the child is 18. For details, please refer to the document 'Family Friendly Issues - Parental Leave' or contact Academy HR.

E Shared Parental Leave

A new Shared Parental Leave Regulations arrangement giving working couples greater flexibility to share childcare has been introduced. The arrangements only apply to parents or adopters of babies due or children placed for adoption on or after 5 April 2015.

The regulations give the birth mother or primary adopter the option to end their maternity or adoption leave and pay entitlements early; in order to transfer to, or share with their partner of either sex, any remaining leave and/or statutory pay entitlements.

The statutory rate of Shared Parental Pay (ShPP) is £139.58 per week. A decision has not yet been made by the Academy as to whether it will enhance ShPP for its employees, but there is no requirement in the legislation to do so.

This replaces Additional Paternity Leave. However, Ordinary Paternity/Maternity Support Leave of two weeks after birth or adoption will continue as before.

Ordinary Parental Leave (different to Shared Parental Leave) gives every parent the right to a total of 18 weeks unpaid Parental Leave per child. Previously, this total amount had to be taken before the child's fifth birthday or anniversary of adoption. It may now be taken up to the child's 18th birthday, but still at a maximum of 4 weeks per year.

For more information, please see the ACAS guidance 'Shared Parental Leave: a good practice guide for employers and employee' provides a useful overview of the scheme.

Expecting parents may wish to use an on line 'ready reckoner' to calculate any entitlement to maternity, paternity or shared parental leave, and how much (if any) statutory pay they will be entitled to during such leave. This does not take into account that Academy employees on maternity or adoption leave may also be eligible for additional 12 weeks contractual maternity pay.

If you have any queries about how the regulations may affect you or your staff, please contact the HR Helpdesk on 01872 323500 Option 5.

F Time Off for Dependents

Since December 1999, all employees have the right to take a reasonable period of unpaid time off work to deal with an emergency or sudden problem involving a dependent, such as illness, accident or an unexpected breakdown in care arrangements. A dependant is the partner, child or parent of the employee, or someone who lives with the employee as part of their family e.g. a grandparent. This right is intended to enable employees to make necessary longer term care arrangements for the dependant. For details, please refer to 'Family Friendly Issues - Time Off for Dependants' or contact CSF Personnel.

Under the Family Friendly Policy operated by the County Council, employees are allowed up to 37 hours paid leave in a rolling year to assist them in managing the illness/support of dependants and relatives.

Death of a Partner or Child

- 2 weeks' paid leave
- additional leave at the discretion of the Headteacher/Governing Body

Death of a Relative or Close Friend

- if the court action is related to the persons employment, whether directly or as a witness, then paid leave would be granted

Agreed Training

- if the training has been agreed as part of the professional development of the employee (and therefore to the mutual benefit of the school and employee) leave with pay would be appropriate

Hospital Appointments

- if unavoidably in school hours, necessary time off with pay

Optician and Dental Appointments

- outside school hours except in an emergency

Leave of Absence for Religious Observance

Many religions or beliefs have special festival or spiritual observance days. An employee may request holiday in order to celebrate festivals or attend ceremonies. Governors should sympathetically consider such a request where it is reasonable and practical for the employee to be away from work, and they have, where appropriate, sufficient holiday entitlement in hand. Employees specifically contracted to work term time must be treated equally and consistently. For example, using the criteria mentioned above, employees contracted to work in term time should not be granted time off other than in exceptional circumstances to be decided by the Personnel Committee. Governors should consider carefully whether their criteria for deciding who should and who should not be granted leave may indirectly discriminate. Staff may request annual leave, if appropriate, to coincide with religious festivals. Refusal to grant such leave may be discriminatory if it cannot be justified by a legitimate business need which cannot be met by any other reasonable means.

Academy HR can offer further guidance to Headteachers/Governors on individual queries.

FAMILY FRIENDLY ISSUES

The Maternity and Parental Leave etc Regulations 1999 were laid before Parliament on 4 November 1999 and derived from the provisions of the Employment Relations Act 1999. They brought into law important changes to the arrangements for Maternity Leave that came into force from 30 April 2000, together with new entitlements in respect of Parental Leave that applied from 15 December 1999. Additionally, the provisions in the 1999 Act relating to time off for dependants came into effect from 15 December 1999.

TIME OFF FOR DEPENDANTS

From 15 December 1999, all employees will have the right to take a reasonable period of time off work to deal with an emergency involving a dependant, and not to be dismissed or victimised for doing so.

Circumstances under which employees may take time off

The new right enables employees to deal with an unexpected or sudden problem and make any necessary longer term arrangements:

- if a dependant falls ill or has been involved in an accident or assaulted, including where the victim is hurt or distressed rather than injured physically;
- when a partner is having a baby;
- to make longer term care arrangements for a dependant who is ill or injured;
- to deal with the death of a dependant; for example, to make funeral arrangements or to attend a funeral;
- to deal with an unexpected disruption or breakdown in care arrangements for a dependant; for example, when the childminder or nurse fails to turn up;
- to deal with an incident involving the employee's child during school hours; for example, if the child has been involved in a fight or is being suspended from school.

Definition of Dependant

A dependant is the partner, child or parent of the employee, or someone who lives with the employee as part of their family. For example, this could be an elderly aunt or grandparent who lives in the household. It does not include tenants or boarders living in the family home, or someone who lives in the household as an employee, for example, a live-in housekeeper.

In cases of illness, injury or where care arrangements break down, a dependant may also be someone who reasonably relies on the employee for assistance. This may be where the employee is the primary carer or is the only person who can help in an emergency.

Amount of Time Off allowed

There is not a set limit to the amount of time off which can be taken. In most cases, the amount of leave will be 1 or 2 days at the most, but this will depend on individual circumstances. It should be remembered that these provisions relate only to an emergency involving a dependant, although an employee may be able to take a longer period of leave under other arrangements with the employer. For example, if a child falls ill, the leave should be enough to help the employee cope with the crisis - to deal with the immediate care of the child, visiting the doctor if necessary, and to make longer term care arrangements. It does not mean that the employee may take 2 weeks leave to look after a sick child.

Time Off will be without pay

The statutory right does not include a right to be paid. Whether or not the employee will be paid will depend on the existing terms and conditions of employment. These arrangements remain unchanged.

Notice employees are required to give

Employees need to tell their employers as soon as possible about their absence, the reason for it and how long they expect to be away from work. There may be times when an employee returns to work before it was possible to contact his or her employer, but he or she should still tell his or her employer the reason for the absence on return to work. The standard should be the same as for sickness absence.

Refusal of Time Off

Employees who think they have been unreasonably refused time off, or victimised for taking it, may complain using the formal grievance procedure.

Where it is suspected that an employee is abusing the right to time off for dependants, a reference should be made under the appropriate disciplinary process.

Employees needing longer time off, or knowing in advance that the problem is going to arise

The new right is intended to cover unforeseen matters. If employees know in advance that they are going to need time off, they may be able to take this time as part of their annual leave entitlement. The right to Parental Leave covered in the next section should also be considered.

PARENTAL LEAVE

Who Can Take Parental Leave?

Employees who have a baby or adopt a child on or after 15 December 1999 and who have completed 1 year's qualifying service with Looe Community Academy by the time they want to take the leave. Both mothers and fathers can take parental leave.

Key elements of parental leave entitlement:

- 18 weeks parental leave for each child
- the employee's rights to take the leave lasts until the child's 5th birthday or in the case of adoption, until 5 years have elapsed following placement or the child reaches the age of 18;
- parents of disabled children will be able to use their leave over a longer period, up until the child's 18th birthday;
- the employee will remain employed while on parental leave; some terms, such as contractual notice and redundancy terms will still apply;
- there is no right to be paid during a period of parental leave;
- at the end of parental leave, an employee is guaranteed the right to return to the same job as before, or, if that is not practicable, a similar job which has the same or better status, terms and conditions as the old job; where the leave taken is for a period of 4 weeks or less, the employee will be entitled to go back to the same job;
- parental leave may be taken in blocks or multiples of 1 week;

- employees must give 21 days' notice of their intention to take parental leave;
- no more than 4 weeks' leave may be taken in a year;
- parental leave may be postponed by the employer for up to 6 months where business cannot cope (such decisions must be approved by, the governors);
- leave cannot be postponed when the employee gives notice to take it immediately after the time the child is born or is placed with the family for adoption.

Parents of disabled children will have the flexibility to take leave a day at a time or longer if they wish. A disabled child is a child for whom disability living allowance is awarded.

Where the conditions of service of an employee provides for them to receive either an entitlement to paternity leave or adoption leave, that leave shall continue to be granted on the basis of the existing conditions of service. However, such leave shall be deemed to be parental leave for the purposes of determining an employee's entitlement under the regulations.
