1. Thank you to staff for supporting National Careers Week last week and to Mrs Reynolds for arranging this week of activities. The purpose of this event was to inform students of possible career pathways and the skills required to meet the challenge of the ever changing world of work.
2. The Cornwall heat of the Magistrates' Mock Trial took place last Friday at Truro Magistrates Court. Students performed magnificently. The case was a domesticated burglary aggravated by premeditation with a householder at home and there were three defendants. Our students defending against St Ives secured a non-guilty verdict and in a head to head with Humphrey Davy the prosecuting team secured a guilty verdict. Each student's performance was individually scored and Looe won the overall competition. The shield was presented by the High Sherriff of Cornwall, Jane Hartley. The students are now preparing for the regional finals to be held in South Wales. Well done to all students and thank you to Mrs Owen for coaching and supporting the students.
2. We look forward to the Year 9 Parents' and Carers' Evening this Thursday. Appointments can be made via the online appointment system.
3. IRIS technology will be in English this week which continues teachers' self-evaluation and reflection of lessons.
4. Students should now line up for dismissal to buses at the end of the day in the Sports Hall, not the main hall, where after school detentions will now be held.

Mrs Jenkins, Headteacher
